Christmas Festival at Calvary Church -What is Interesting Borough Resi-

Wednesday evening the Christmas festival was held at Calvary Episcopal church. The service was conducted by Rev. Charles J. Mason, rector of the church, who spoke to the congregation and to the Sunday school most interestingly. A special teature of the programme was the musical programme arranged by Miss Zangrandi, composed of male voices, rendering many selections. That the members of the Fishermen's Protective association do not mean to let the New Haven oyster growers obtain possession of any land in this vicinity is evidenced from the citizent that they have already had a persuited to the fish commission of the state as soon as the required number of signatures are obtained. Petition in Circulation by Fishermen's Protective Association - Various

The Honorable Shell Fish Commissioners of the State of Connecticut: We, the undersigned, citizens of the town of Groton, respectfully present this our remonstrance against the state commissioners granting the applica-tion of Daniel E. Fitzgerald for a per-petual franchise of two hundred and twenty-five (225) acres to be used for the propagation of oysters, as described in his recent petition at or near Groton Long Point. For the reason that these grounds are the natural lobster and fishing grounds, which furnish a living for nearly two hundred (200) citizens of the towns of Groton and Stonington and the granting of this petition wil work to them an irreparable injury. We respectfully request a hearing or said application. Yours respectfully.
